

UNIVERSITY OF LINCOLN JOB DESCRIPTION

UNIVERSITY OF LINCOLN

JOB TITLE	Senior Lecturer in Speech and Language Therapy
DEPARTMENT	School of Health and Care Sciences
LOCATION	Lincoln Campuses
JOB NUMBER	CHS280	GRADE	8	DATE	January 2026
REPORTS TO	Associate Professor – AHP and Social Work Education

CONTEXT

The School of Health and Care Sciences is a large, interdisciplinary academic community delivering pre- and post-registration education across the health and social care professions. Speech and Language Therapy is a key and growing area of provision within the School, aligned with workforce priorities and sustained applicant demand.

The MSc Speech and Language Therapy programme has experienced significant growth beyond original validation assumptions and is approaching a period of revalidation. This post forms part of an approved investment in academic capacity to ensure high-quality delivery, regulatory compliance, and a positive student experience, while supporting the School's longer-term portfolio development plans.

JOB PURPOSE

General

To work with colleagues on curriculum development and the advancement of relevant discipline areas within the University

To plan, design and deliver teaching within programmes in relevant discipline areas

To undertake student tutoring and support

To conduct individual scholarly and / or professional practice based projects that contribute to the profile of the School

To carry out other activities in support of the academic work of the department/school particularly in relation to discipline and teaching scholarship and/or relevant professional practice with relevant organisations.

Specific to this post upon appointment:

The Senior Lecturer in Speech and Language Therapy will play a key role in the delivery, leadership, and enhancement of the MSc Speech and Language Therapy programme. The postholder will contribute to teaching and assessment, support students through academic tutoring, and take an active role in curriculum development, quality assurance, and preparation for programme revalidation.

The role includes contributing to a research-informed and scholarly teaching environment through engagement in pedagogic scholarship, professional enquiry, or practice-based research activity that enhances curriculum quality and student learning. The post does not carry expectations for REF outputs, external research income generation, or routine doctoral supervision, but does require leadership in maintaining academic standards and supporting the development of colleagues.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of a Senior Lecturer are wide ranging and may change over time according to the development needs of the department and the individual. In general a Senior Lecturer can expect to undertake any of the following:

Team Working

- Act as a responsible team member, leading modules or programmes and co-ordinating the work of others to identify and respond to student needs. Although at this level this would not normally be expected for large or complex programmes, such as those involving split sites, or significant cross teaching
- May be expected to supervise the work of others and/or participate in peer observation of teaching. At this level significant resourcing and staffing issues identified would be expected to be dealt with at a higher level

Student Support

- Act as academic tutor to students as allocated by the Head of School and act as first line contact for them for advice and support on academic matters, ensuring that students are directed to relevant support services when necessary
- Supervise research degree students as appropriate
- Supervise student projects and placements as appropriate

Citizenship

- Contribute, as required to the wider mission and reputation of the University with active involvement in activities contributing to general university life e.g. open days, student activities, alumni events and delivery of outreach activities e.g. school visits, local community activities
- Where appropriate, active participation in committees/groups contributing to university life e.g. health and safety, customer service, equality diversity and inclusivity, sustainability and working groups
- Engage in appropriate training programmes in the University, actively follow and promote University policies and participation in the staff appraisal scheme
- Where appropriate help contribute towards the future development of the University and support the University's wider social, cultural and economic development of our region, our 'civic' mission with engagement and/or leadership of external partnerships contributing to the civic mission of the University. Participation in external activities such as volunteering, cultural activities, community activities

In addition to the above, undertake such duties as may reasonably be requested and that are commensurate with the nature and grade of the post.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Scope and dimensions of the role
The postholder will contribute to the delivery and coordination of core elements of Speech and Language Therapy education, primarily at postgraduate level, with opportunities to contribute to interprofessional learning across the Allied Health Professions portfolio.
At Senior Lecturer level, the role includes responsibility for leading aspects of module delivery, contributing to programme-level decision-making, and supporting quality assurance processes, including PSRB requirements and revalidation activity. The postholder will provide academic leadership within the Speech and Language Therapy team, supporting curriculum consistency, mentoring colleagues where appropriate, and contributing to a positive and sustainable team culture.
The role also supports the School's strategic direction, including enhanced delivery efficiency across programmes and future undergraduate provision, while maintaining a strong focus on teaching quality, student experience, and professional standards.
